

End of Year Newsletter

Grade 7 Social Studies

Quarter 4 Review

This quarter Social Studies and English classes have worked together on an interdisciplinary unit about Truth with a focus on Africa and human rights. The students explored the history of European settlers on the continent, looked at the current borders and then recreated them, and had a discussion about the most pressing human rights issues of the moment in Africa. The students were engaged in the lessons and seems to really enjoy learning about the topics. They did a great job explaining their new borders in their essays and using persuasive language in their discussions. The students worked really hard up until the end and their hard work paid off.

Goodbyes...

It is that time of year again and quite a few students will be moving on to different schools in different countries for Grade 8. It was a pleasure teaching you this year and we wish you the best of luck in the future! Keep working hard and studying and there will be no limits to what you will be able to achieve. Keep in touch so we know how well you're doing!

Good Luck in Grade 8!

Some of you may be nervous to go to 8th Grade but have no fear, you'll do great! And look at the nice Social Studies teachers you'll get to work with next year! A preview of what your year will look like:

- Unit 1: Systems
- Unit 2: Transformation
- Unit 3: Power
- Unit 4: Interconnectedness

NEWSMASTER OF THE YEAR!

Newsmaster of the Year

Congratulations to Gaby who is the Grade 7 Newsmaster of the Year. In order to achieve this title, Gaby successfully scored the highest amount of points on our weekly current events quiz. Gaby has proven that she really knows what's happening in the world and was able to consistently beat out the competition during the weekly quiz. Well done and keep up the good work!

Newsmasters for May

